Independent Auditors' Report

(115) Cai-Shen-Bao-Zi No. 26001262

To Gseven Co., Ltd.

Foreword

Gseven Co., Ltd. and Subsidiaries (hereinafter referred to as "Gseven Group")

- The consolidated balance sheets as of June 30, 2026 and 2025, the consolidated statements of comprehensive income for the periods from April 1 to June 30, 2026 and 2025, and from January 1 to June 30, 2026 and 2025, and the consolidated statements of changes in equity, consolidated statements of cash flows, and Notes to the consolidated financial statements (including a summary of significant accounting policies) for the periods from January 1 to June 30, 2026 and 2025, have been reviewed by the undersigned accountants. The preparation of consolidated financial statements that fairly present in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Accounting Standard No. 34 "Interim Financial Reporting" as endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission is the responsibility of management. The accountant's responsibility is to express a conclusion on the consolidated financial statements based on the review.

Scope

We conducted our reviews in accordance with the Republic of China Standard on Review Engagements 2410, "Review of Financial Statements." The procedures performed when reviewing consolidated financial statements include inquiries (primarily of personnel responsible for financial and accounting matters), analytical procedures, and other review procedures. The scope of a review is significantly less than that of an audit; therefore, the accountant may not become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit and accordingly cannot express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying consolidated financial statements in order for them to be in conformity with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Accounting Standard 34, "Interim Financial Reporting," as endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission, that would cause them to not fairly present the financial position of the Gseven Group as of June 30, 2026 and 2025, its consolidated financial performance for the three-month and six-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, and its consolidated cash flows for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements
For the Second Quarter of 2026 and 2025

Unit: NT$ Thousand
(unless otherwise specified)

I Company History

The Company was approved for establishment on November 26, 1994. The Company and its subsidiaries (hereinafter collectively referred to as “the Group”) primarily engage in businesses including the manufacturing of various electrical products, audiovisual equipment assemblies, maintenance and repair services, sales of related equipment, import-export trading, agency bidding, distribution for domestic and international manufacturers, and wholesale and retail of medical equipment. The Company’ s shares have been traded publicly at the Taipei Exchange since June 8, 2017.

II Date and procedure for the approval of financial statements

The Consolidated Financial Statements were approved by the Board of Directors and released on August 6, 2026.

III The application of new and amended standards and interpretations

(I) Impact of the application of the new and amended IFRS Accounting Standards endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission (hereinafter referred to as the "FSC")

The following table summarizes the new, amended, and revised standards and interpretations of IFRS Accounting Standards applicable in 2026 that have been endorsed and issued into effect by FSC:

Newly issued, amended, and revised standards and interpretations	Effective date announced by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB)
Amendments to IFRS 9 and IFRS 7, “Modifications to Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments”	January 1, 2026
Amendments to International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) 9 and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) 7: "Contracts Involving Natural Electricity"	January 1, 2026
IFRS 17 “Insurance Contracts”	January 1, 2023
Amendment to IFRS 17 “Insurance Contracts”	January 1, 2023
Amendment to IFRS 17 “Initial Application of IFRS 17 and IFRS 9 – Comparative Information”	January 1, 2023
International Financial Reporting Annual Improvements to Accounting Standards – Volume 11	January 1, 2026

The Group has assessed that the above standards and interpretations have no significant impact on the Group's financial position and financial performance.

(II) Impact of new and amended IFRS Accounting Standards endorsed by FSC but not yet adopted

The following table summarizes the new, amended, and revised standards and interpretations of IFRS Accounting Standards endorsed by FSC that are applicable in 2027:

Newly issued, amended, and revised standards and interpretations	Effective date announced by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB)
IFRS 18 "Presentation and Disclosure of Financial Statements"	January 1, 2027 (Note 1)
IFRS 19 "Subsidiaries without Public Accountability: Disclosures"	January 1, 2027
Amendment to International Accounting Standards (IAS) 21 "Translation into a Hyperinflationary Reporting Currency"	January 1, 2027
Amendment to IAS 28, "Fair Value Option for Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures"	January 1, 2027 (Note 2)

Note 1: An enterprise shall apply International Financial Reporting Standard 18 (hereinafter referred to as IFRS 18) for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2028, and may elect to apply it earlier.

Note 2: An enterprise shall apply this standard concurrently with IFRS 18.

Except as described below, the Group has assessed that the aforementioned standards and interpretations have no material impact on its financial position and financial performance. The related impact amounts will be disclosed upon completion of the assessment:

IFRS 18 "Presentation and Disclosure of Financial Statements"

IFRS No. 18 "Presentation and Disclosure of Financial Statements" replaces International Accounting Standard No. 1, updates the structure of the statement of comprehensive income, introduces new disclosures for management performance measures, and enhances the principles of aggregation and disaggregation applied to primary financial statements and notes.

(III) The impact of the IFRS that have been issued by the IASB but have not yet been approved by the FSC:

The following table sets forth the new issues, amendments, and revisions of IFRS that have been issued by the IASB but have not yet been approved by the FSC:

Newly issued, amended, and revised standards and interpretations	Effective date announced by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB)
Amendment to IFRS 10 and IAS 28 "Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and Its Associate or Joint Venture"	To be decided by IASB
IFRS 20 "Regulatory Assets and Regulatory Liabilities"	January 1, 2029

The Group has assessed that the above standards and interpretations have no significant impact on the Group's financial position and financial performance.

IV Summary of important accounting policies

Significant accounting policies, except for statements of compliance, basis of preparation, basis of consolidation, and additional explanations as described below, are the same as those described in Note 4 to the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025. Unless otherwise stated, these policies are applicable throughout the reporting period.

(I) Statement of compliance

1. These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Accounting Standard No. 34 “Interim Financial Reporting” as endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission.
2. These Consolidated Financial Statements should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

(II) Basis of preparation

1. Except for the following important items, the consolidated financial statements are prepared based on historical cost:
 - (1) Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (including derivatives).
 - (2) The net amount of pension fund assets less the present value of defined benefit obligations is recognized as a defined benefit liability.
2. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, Interpretations, and Interpretative Bulletins (hereinafter referred to as IFRSs) endorsed and issued into effect by the FSC The financial statements announced (hereinafter referred to as IFRSs) require the use of some important accounting estimates. In the application of the Group’s accounting policies, the management also needs to use its judgment, involving items with high judgment or complexity, or items involving significant assumptions and estimates of the Consolidated Financial Statements. Please refer to Note 5 for details.

(III) Basis of consolidation

1. The principle for preparation of consolidated financial statements
The preparation principles of these Consolidated Financial Statements are the same as those of the Consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.
2. Subsidiaries included in the consolidated financial statements:

Name of the investment company	Subsidiary name	Business nature	Percentage of ownership held			Description
			June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025	June 30, 2025
The Company	Gshare Co., Ltd.	Wholesale and retail of electrical appliances, home appliances, audio equipment, information and communication products, etc.	100%	100%	100%	–

3. Subsidiaries not included in the consolidated financial statements: None.
4. Different adjustment and management methods during the accounting period of the subsidiaries: None.
5. Major limitation: None.
6. Subsidiaries with significant non-controlling interests in the Group: None.

(IV) Employee benefits

Pension costs for the interim period are calculated based on the pension cost rate determined by actuarial valuation as of the end of the previous financial year, applied from the beginning of the year to the end of the current period. If there are significant market fluctuations and significant curtailments, settlements, or other significant one-time events after that ending date, adjustments are made accordingly, and relevant information is disclosed in accordance with the aforementioned policies.

(V) Income tax

Income tax expense for the interim period is calculated by applying the estimated annual average effective tax rate to the pre-tax profit or loss for the interim period, and relevant information is disclosed in accordance with the aforementioned policies.

V Major sources of uncertainty over significant accounting judgments, assumptions, and estimation

There were no significant changes during the period. Please refer to Note 5 to the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

VI Description of important accounting items

(I) Cash and cash equivalents

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025	June 30, 2025

1. There was no capitalization of borrowing costs for the Group's Property, plant and equipment for the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025.
2. The major components of the Group's buildings and structures include buildings and renovation projects, which are depreciated over 55 years, 50 years, 35 years, and 5 years, respectively.
3. For information on collateral with property, plant and equipment, refer to the descriptions in Note 8.
4. The Group's property, plant and equipment are not assets of operating leases.

(VIII) Lease transaction – Lessee

1. The Group's leased assets include department store counters, buildings, and company vehicles, with lease terms ranging from 1 to 11 years. The lease agreements are individually negotiated and contain various terms and conditions. Except for certain leased assets that may not be used as collateral for borrowing, subleased, or loaned to others, no additional restrictions are imposed.
2. The book value of the right-of-use assets and the recognized depreciation expenses are as follows:

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025	June 30, 2025

Expenses of short-term lease contracts	180	983
Expenses on variable lease payments	158,784	136,020

5. The Group's total cash outflows for leases for the six-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025 were $163,150 and $141,329, respectively.

6. Impact of variable lease payments on lease liabilities

- (1) The underlying subject of variable lease payments in the Group's lease contract is linked to the sales amount of various products in the special counters of each department store. For department store concession-type lease arrangements, payments are primarily based on variable pricing conditions, predominantly linked to the sales volume of various product categories. Variable lease payments related to changes in the sales amount of various products are recognized as expenses when the payment terms are triggered.
- (2) When sales of various products at department store counters within the Group increase by 1%, variable lease payment expenses will rise in accordance with the commission rates for each product category. This is expected to increase total lease payments by approximately $1,588, $3,121, and $1,360 as of June 30, 2026, December 31, 2025, and June 30, 2025, respectively.

7. As of June 30, 2026, December 31, 2025, and June 30, 2025, the information on lease liabilities is as follows:

2. For information on collateral with investment property, refer to the descriptions in Note 8.
3. As of June 30, 2026, December 31, 2025, and June 30, 2025, the Group held investment properties that generated rental income. The fair values of the investment properties were $339,137, $208,367, and $138,196, respectively. The aforementioned fair values were primarily assessed based on methods such as the market transaction prices of similar properties in neighboring areas. This valuation adopted the income approach and is classified as Level 2 fair value.

(XIII) Pension

- 1.(1) The Group has established a defined benefit retirement plan in accordance with the provisions of the “Labor Standards Act.” This plan applies to the years of service accrued by all full-time employees prior to the implementation of the “Labor Pension Act” on July 1, 2005, as well as the subsequent years of service for employees who have chosen to continue under the Labor Standards Act after the implementation of the Labor Pension Act. Specifically, for service years up to and including 15 years, employees receive two salary units for each completed year of service. For service years exceeding 15 years, employees receive one salary unit for each completed year of service. The cumulative retirement benefit is capped at a maximum of 45 salary units. The Group contributes 2% of the total salary to the pension fund every month and deposits the fund in a special account with the Bank of Taiwan in the name of the Labor Pension Reserve Supervisory Committee. Prior to the end of each fiscal year, the Group estimates the balance of the labor retirement reserve fund. If the fund balance is insufficient to cover the estimated retirement benefits for employees expected to meet retirement conditions in the following year (calculated according to the previous method), the Group will make a supplementary contribution to cover the shortfall by the end of March in the subsequent year.
- (2) The Group expects to contribute $226 to the retirement plan in 2027.
- (3) For the three months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, for the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, the Group recognized pension costs of $25 and $28, $50, and $56 respectively, under the aforementioned pension plans.
- 2.(1) Effective July 1, 2005, the Group has established a defined contribution retirement plan in accordance with the “Labor Pension Act,” which is applicable to employees of local nationality. For the portion of employees who choose to participate in the labor pension system as defined by the “Labor Pension Act,” the Group contributes 6% of each employee’s monthly salary to individual accounts at the Labor Insurance Bureau. Employee retirement benefits will be paid out either as monthly pension payments or a lump sum, based on the balance of the individual’s retirement account and accumulated earnings.

- (2) For the three-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, and the six-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, the pension costs recognized by the Group in accordance with the aforementioned pension plan were $5,002, $4,645, $9,947, and $9,296, respectively.

(XIV) Share capital

1. As of June 30, 2026, the Company’s authorized capital is $600,000, divided into 60,000 thousand shares (including 1,800 thousand shares reserved for employee share options), with a paid-in capital of $435,420. The par value is NTD 10 per share. The payment for the issued shares of the Company has been collected.
2. The outstanding shares at the beginning and ending of the period of the common shares of the Company are adjusted as follows: (Unit: thousand shares) 2026

	2026	2025
January 1 (and June 30)	43,542	39,584

3. On June 23, 2026, the Company's shareholders resolved to increase capital by issuing 4,354,000 new shares at a par value of NTD 10 per share, funded by Unappropriated retained earnings of $43,542. This capital increase was approved and became effective upon filing with the Financial Supervisory Commission on July 8, 2026. The Board of Directors resolved on August 6, 2026, to set September 6, 2026, as the capital increase record date; the change of registration has not yet been completed.
4. On June 19, 2025, the Company’s shareholders resolved to increase capital by issuing 3,958,000 new shares at a par value of NTD 10, funded by Unappropriated retained earnings of $39,584. This capital increase was approved and became effective upon filing with the Financial Supervisory Commission on July 3, 2025. The Board of Directors resolved on July 9, 2025, to set July 30, 2025, as the capital increase record date; the capital increase has been completed.

(XV) Capital surplus

Pursuant to the Company Act, capital surplus derived from the premium on share issuance and donations received may be used to offset losses. When the Company has no accumulated losses, such reserves shall be distributed to shareholders as new shares or cash in proportion to their existing shareholdings. In accordance with the relevant provisions of the Securities and Exchange Act, the above-mentioned capital surplus is limited to 10% of the paid-in capital annually. The Company shall not make up for the capital loss with the additional paid-in capital unless the additional paid-in capital is insufficient to make up for the capital loss.

		2026
	Premium from issuance	Other matters	Total
January 1 (and June 30)	$ 120,100	$ 16,038	$ 136,138
		2025
	Premium from issuance	Other matters	Total
January 1 (and June 30)	$ 120,100	$ 16,038	$ 136,138

(XVI) Retained earnings

1. The Company shall distribute surplus or make up for losses at the end of each fiscal year. When distributing earnings, the Company shall estimate and retain the taxes and dues to be paid, the losses to be covered and the legal reserve to be set aside. However, this does not apply if the legal reserve has reached the same amount as paid-in capital. If the earnings are distributed in cash, a resolution shall be adopted by the Board of Directors; if the earnings are distributed in the form of new shares, a resolution shall be adopted by the shareholders' meeting in accordance with the regulations.

The Board of Directors of the Company, with the attendance of more than two-thirds of the directors and by a resolution approved by a majority of the directors present, may resolve to distribute all or part of the dividends and bonuses, Capital surplus, or Legal reserve in cash and report such distribution to the shareholders' meeting; the provisions requiring a resolution of the shareholders' meeting shall not apply.

As the Group is currently in a stable growth phase, it is necessary to retain earnings to meet operational and investment funding needs. Consequently, the Company is implementing a residual dividend policy. The annual distribution of shareholder dividends and bonuses shall not be less than 10% of the distributable earnings for the current year, with cash dividends accounting for no less than 20% of the total dividend distribution for that year.

2. The legal reserve may only be used to offset the Company's losses or to issue new shares or cash to shareholders in proportion to their existing shareholdings, and is otherwise restricted from use. However, the issuance of new shares or cash is limited to the portion of such reserve that exceeds 25% of the paid-in capital.
3. Cash dividends recognized as distributions to owners for 2026 were $91,438 (NTD 2.2 per share) and stock dividends were $43,542 (NTD 1.04 per share), with total dividends amounting to $134,980; Cash dividends recognized as distributions to owners for 2025 were $79,167 (per share NTD 2) and stock dividends were $39,584 (per share NTD 1), with total dividends amounting to $118,751.

1. According to the Articles of Incorporation, if the Company generates a profit in a year, no less than 5% shall be allocated as remuneration to employees, and no less than 30% thereof shall be allocated for distribution to rank-and-file employees. If there is profit in the year, no more than 1.5% of the profit shall be distributed as remuneration to directors. However, the Company shall first make up for any cumulative losses if any.
2. The estimated employee remuneration of the Company for the three-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, and the six-month periods ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, was $3,541, $1,603, $6,035, and $4,289, respectively; the estimated directors' remuneration was $580, $0, $984, and $0, respectively. The aforementioned amounts are recognized under the salaries and wages expense account.

The amount for January 1 to June 30, 2026 is estimated based on the profit for the period to date and the percentages stipulated in the Articles of Incorporation.

The Board of Directors resolved to distribute employee remuneration and directors' remuneration for 2025 in the amounts of $17,465 and $3,252, respectively, which were consistent with the amounts recognized in the 2025 financial statements. The employee remuneration will be distributed in cash.

2. Risk management policy

There were no significant changes during the period. Please refer to Note 12 to the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025.

3. The nature and severity of significant financial risks

(1) Market risk

Exchange rate risk

The business activities of the Group do not involve significant non-functional currencies, so there is no significant impact of exchange rate fluctuations.

Price risk

The Group does not have any exposure to the price risk of products.

Cash flow and interest rate risk on fair value

A. The interest rate risk of the Group comes from short-term borrowings. The interest rate risk of cash flow is borne by the Group due to the borrowings issued at floating interest rates. The cash and cash equivalents held at floating interest rates partially offset the risk. For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, the Group's borrowings at floating interest rates were denominated in NTD.

- B. For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, if the interest rate of borrowings increased or decreased by 0.25%, with all other factors remaining constant, the net profit after tax for the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, would decrease or increase by $500 and $515, respectively, mainly due to the increase/decrease in Interest expense caused by the floating interest rate borrowings.

(2) Credit risk

- A. The Group's credit risk is the risk of financial loss resulting from customers or counterparties to financial instruments failing to fulfill their contractual obligations. This risk primarily arises from counterparties' inability to settle accounts receivable, other receivables according to payment terms, and contractual cash flows from debt instrument investments classified as measured at amortized cost.
- B. The credit risk of bank deposits and other financial instruments is measured and monitored by the Group's Finance Department. Since the Group's banks and investors are mainly banks with good credit ratings or financial institutions with investment grade or above, there is no significant performance concern, so there is no significant credit risk. The group's accounts receivable are primarily from well-known domestic department stores and renowned e-commerce service platforms. The possibility of credit risk occurring is extremely low, with the maximum credit risk being their carrying value.
- C. The Group adopts the premise assumption of IFRS 9. When the contract amount is overdue for more than 90 days under the agreed payment terms, it is deemed a breach of contract.
- D. The Group classifies the accounts receivable of customers according to the customer rating, and estimates the expected credit loss based on the loss rate.
- E. After the Group has pursued the recourse, the amount of financial assets that cannot be reasonably expected to be recovered is written off. However, the Group will continue to pursue the legal procedure of recourse to protect the rights and interests of the creditors. As of June 30, 2026, December 31, 2025, and June 30, 2025, the Group had no claims that were written off and for which recourse activities were still in progress.
- F. The Group uses a simplified approach based on the loss rate method to estimate expected credit losses for Accounts receivable. When estimating the loss allowance as of June 30, 2026, December 31, 2025, and June 30, 2025, the Group, in addition to recording Impairment loss for individual customers who have actually experienced credit impairment, refers to historical experience and considers customers' financial conditions. The expected loss rates established for non-overdue receivables are 0.01%; for those overdue by 1–30 days, 5%; for those overdue by 31–90 days, 15%; and for those overdue by 91 days or more, 100%.

- G. The simplified statement of changes in the loss allowance of accounts receivable is as follows:

	2026
	Accounts receivable	Other receivables
January 1	$ 1,776	$ 471
Impairment loss recognition	-	191
Reversal of impairment loss	(20)	-
June 30	$ 1,756	$ 662
	2025
	Accounts receivable	Other receivables
January 1	$ 1,726	$ 493
Reversal of impairment loss	(52)	(88)
June 30	$ 1,674	$ 405

- H. The expected credit loss of the financial assets measured at amortized cost used by the Group to determine the accounts receivable is as follows:

At each balance sheet date, for financial assets measured at amortized cost, after considering all reasonable and supportable information (including forward-looking information), for those whose credit risk has not significantly increased since initial recognition, the loss allowance is measured based on the 12-month expected credit loss amount; for those whose credit risk has significantly increased since initial recognition, the loss allowance is measured based on the lifetime expected credit loss amount. If the counterparty's financial condition is not sound or the payment term is overdue for more than a certain period of time under the agreed payment terms, it is deemed that the credit risk of the financial asset has increased significantly since the initial recognition.

(3) Liquidity risk

- A. The cash flow forecast is executed by each operating entity within the Group, and is compiled by the Group's Finance Department. The Group's finance department monitors forecasts of the Group's liquidity requirements to ensure it has sufficient funds to meet operational needs and maintains an adequate unused borrowing commitment at all times. These forecasts consider the Group's debt financing plans, compliance with debt terms, and the achievement of financial ratio targets for the internal balance sheet.
- B. When the Group has cash remaining beyond what is required for operational capital management, the finance department invests these surplus funds in interest-bearing demand deposits, time deposits, and securities. The instruments selected have appropriate maturity dates or sufficient liquidity to accommodate the forecasts mentioned above and provide adequate flexibility for adjustments. As of June 30, 2026, December 31, 2025, and June 30, 2025, the Group held money market positions of $269,217, $229,008, and $209,688, respectively, which are expected to generate immediate cash flows to manage liquidity risk.
- C. The Group's unused credit facilities are as follows:

	June 30, 2026	December 31, 2025	June 30, 2025
Fixed interest rate
Due within one year	$ 2,195,300	$ 2,010,200	$ 1,755,200

- D. The following table shows the non-derivative financial liabilities of the Group, grouped by their maturity dates. The non-derivative financial liabilities are analyzed based on the remaining period from the balance sheet date to the contract's maturity date. The contract cash flow disclosed in the following table are not discounted.

The Group does not expect the cash flow analysis on the maturity date to occur significantly ahead of the schedule or the actual amount to be significantly different.

(III) Information on fair value

1. The Group has no financial instruments measured at fair value. The carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities not measured at fair value, including cash and cash equivalents, financial assets measured at amortized cost, notes receivable, accounts receivable, other receivables, guarantee deposits paid, short-term borrowings, notes payable, accounts payable, other payables, lease liabilities, and guarantee deposits received, are a reasonable approximation of their fair values.

2. For the fair value of investment property measured at cost, please refer to the descriptions in Note 6, (9).
